

Just Breathe Out

Words and Music © Abi Moore (MCPS- PRS)

Take my hand, let's fly away
Let's make the most of a beautiful day
Let's play a game of a different kind
And for once let's just leave the world behind

Tell me why I should apologise for feeling strong
No dues left to pay- I've prayed for this day my whole life long
Rather than wanting to scream out loud
I've been waiting to just breathe in, breathe out
Just breathe in, breathe out

What's so wrong with a lovely sky?
Sunlight in my eyes makes me cry
And what's so wrong with an honest smile?
I hear it does you good once in a while

I'm changing my story cos there is no glory in emptiness
It plays no part but leaving your heart with a layer of dust
So blow it off and learn to love again
And once day you'll learn to be your own best friend
So just breathe out, breathe in

It's not the pain that makes you wise
It's the looking at it all with humble eyes
I never was the type to scream and shout
I'll just breathe in, breathe out

Well if there's one thing I know- its hard letting go, but I will try
Cos life is a game and if its dealt, I must play, by God's design
Nobody knows what it's all about
The best thing to do is just breathe in, breathe out
Just breathe in, breathe out

Take my hand, let's fly away
Last one to leave has to stay
(And it won't be me)
